

Ollscoil Mhá Nuad Maynooth University

Department of Sport Science and Nutrition Technical Officer for Sport Science and Health (Permanent)

The Role

Maynooth University is committed to a strategy in which the primary University goals of excellent research and scholarship and outstanding education are interlinked and equally valued.

We are seeking to appoint a highly motivated Technical Officer for Sport Science and Health to support the delivery of high-quality teaching, research, and outreach activities. The role involves the day-to-day operation of the department's laboratories and student-facing practical support. The Technical Officer will be a key member of the technical support team, ensuring that laboratories, teaching spaces, and equipment are well maintained and operate safely, efficiently, and to the highest professional standards.

Principal Duties

Administrative and other duties:

This will include, but will not be limited to:

- Preparing, supervising and delivering undergraduate practical classes.
- Supporting research laboratories, core facilities, and workshops.
- Daily operation, calibration, and maintenance of laboratory equipment.
- Co-ordinating equipment repairs and preventative maintenance schedules.
- Managing equipment inventories, stores, consumables, and procurement.
- Preparing and updating Risk Assessments, Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs), and laboratory safety documentation.

- Providing technical assistance to staff and postgraduate students in the use of equipment for research.
- Supporting data collection for Departmental research where appropriate.
- Supporting the day-to-day running of the Department and contributing to departmental outreach and engagement events.

The ideal candidate will have:

Essential

- An undergraduate degree in sport science or related discipline.
- Experience with scientific equipment relevant to sport science and health.
- Effective verbal communication skills with staff and students.
- Strong written skills.
- Ability to prioritise tasks and work independently or in a team.

Desirable

- Relevant experience as a technical officer or prior work in a scientific, technical, or academic setting.
- Experience in the preparation, supervision, and management of undergraduate practical classes.
- Knowledge of laboratory safety procedures and regulations.
- Ability to write standard operating procedures.
- Ability to train staff and students in appropriate use of equipment/instrumentation.
- Ability to maintain technical equipment.
- Shows strong initiative.
- Prior experience of procurement and equipment purchasing.
- Prior experience in collecting data using equipment.

Faculty and Research Institutes

The Faculty of Science & Engineering comprises the Departments of Sport Science and Nutrition, Biology, Chemistry, Computer Science, Electronic Engineering, Experimental Physics, Theoretical Physics, Mathematics and Statistics and Psychology. The role of the Faculty is to co-ordinate the academic activities of individual departments, to oversee the strategic development of departments, and to support interdepartmental activities and programmes. The University has also developed a number of interdisciplinary Institutes to support excellent research and to build research capacity across disciplines.

Department

The Department of Sport Science and Nutrition was established at Maynooth University in 2023, with a growing team of academic and administrative staff. In 2024, the Department launched two new undergraduate programmes, MH221 BSc Sport Science and Health, and MH222 BSc Food Science and Human Nutrition. Academic staff in the areas of sport science and health are actively conducting research in the areas of: musculoskeletal injuries and rehabilitation, muscle function and structure, youth athlete development, chronic disease prevention and management, behaviour change, sports performance, sensor-based solutions for movement and exercise, clinical exercise physiology, molecular nutrition, circadian rhythm, nutrition and metabolic health. This breadth and depth of research will increase as new staff are appointed over the next two years and programmes are rolled out. These research strengths feed directly into a vibrant learning environment.

The Department collaborates with high profile domestic and international partners, including healthcare providers, sports partnerships, food industry, injury clinics and elite-level sporting organisations.

Maynooth University has committed to major capital developments worth €25 million to support sports and exercise for general student use but also including dedicated facilities to support research and teaching initiatives within the Department of Sport Science and Nutrition. These facilities will be completed in December 2026.

The University

Maynooth University is a very distinctive university, a collegial institution focused on science and engineering, humanities, and social sciences, and equally committed to research, teaching and community engagement. Located in Ireland's only university town, its distinctive features and character owe much to its unique history and heritage. It provides a high-quality educational experience to over 17,000 students on a campus with 18th century roots and 21st century dynamism.

Maynooth University is a place of lively contrasts – a modern institution, dynamic, rapidly-growing, research-led and engaged, yet grounded in historic academic strengths and scholarly traditions. We offer a range of programmes at undergraduate, postgraduate and doctoral level in the humanities, science and engineering and social sciences, including business, law and education, along with a range of international programmes and partnerships.

The strategic trajectory and accomplishments of Maynooth University, since its establishment as an autonomous public university, are exceptional and a source of great pride to the university community, staff, students and alumni. Maynooth University ranked in the top 90 global Times Higher Education (THE) Young University rankings in 2024. Maynooth University's growing global reputation is based on the originality, quality, importance and impact of its research and scholarship, commitment to teaching and learning, the quality of academic programmes, and its leadership in widening participation in higher education. The sources of success are the dedication of its staff and the energy and engagement of its students.

Maynooth University's Values
