School of Law and Criminology Assistant Lecturer in Law (Specified Purpose Contract)

The Role

Maynooth University is committed to a strategy in which the primary University goals of excellent research and scholarship and outstanding education are interlinked and equally valued.

We are seeking an excellent academic to join our staff as an Assistant Lecturer in Law, on a specified purpose contract, for maternity leave cover, to support the delivery of our undergraduate and postgraduate Law programmes.

Candidates should have an excellent broad knowledge of law. While applicants with specialisms in all areas of law are welcome, the School especially welcomes applicants with experience of or expertise in any one or more of the following areas: Child Law, Contract Law, Company Law, Criminal Law, Equity, Evidence Law, Family Law, Legal Research and Skills, and Property Law.

The person appointed will have a proven record of teaching, research and publication, appropriate to career stage. They will be expected to make a strong contribution to the teaching programme of the School, to undertake teaching duties on the School's undergraduate and postgraduate programmes, and to supervise students' research projects.

The appointee will be expected to build a strong research profile that supports the University and School research strategy and working with colleagues on national and international research. The appointee will be expected to sustain and conduct research, engage in scholarship of quality and substance and generate publications of international standard.

Principal Duties

Teaching:

Undergraduate and postgraduate teaching duties are assigned by the Head of the School. The duties will include:

- Teaching and assessing students at undergraduate level. This may include lecturing, tutoring, leading practical learning activities, project supervision, and setting, supervising and grading assessments;
- Teaching, supervising and assessing postgraduate students, including lecturing, leading seminars and other learning activities, supervision of student research activities, and setting, supervising and grading assessments;
- Enhancing and innovating in teaching and assessment practice;
- Contributing as required, to the assurance and enhancement of teaching quality;
- Outreach and promotional activities and the recruitment and selection of undergraduate and post-graduate students;
- Developing and enhancing the curriculum;
- Designing and delivering of new courses.

Research & Scholarship:

Building a research and scholarly profile is an essential part of an academic career. This will include:

- Conducting research and engaging in scholarship of quality and substance in the discipline;
- Generating external income or securing resources to support scholarly activity as necessary;
- Disseminating research and scholarly outcomes through: peer reviewed publication; presentation at national and international conferences; preparation of professional reports; commercialisation; or other appropriate means;
- Affiliating with a University Research Institute, where appropriate;
- Building research capacity;
- Fostering links with other institutions which will benefit both research and teaching at Maynooth University;
- Integrating research into the teaching curriculum;
- Supervising research students and post-doctoral fellows.

Service:

The academic staff members of the University are critical to achieving the strategic objectives of the University, and as such are required to engage in work that serves the collective strategic needs of the University. This may include:

- Administrative and service duties;
- Leading or contributing to strategic projects and initiatives;
- Contributing to the internationalisation of the university;
- Outreach and engagement activities;
- Collaborative work with external partners;
- Activities to promote the University locally, nationally and internationally;
- Carrying out any other duties within the scope, spirit and purpose of a Maynooth University academic post.

Administrative and other duties:

This will include:

- Undertaking administrative tasks within the School, Faculty and University as required and as assigned by the Head of School, the Dean or the President;
- Attending and serving on Departmental, Faculty, Institute and University committees as appropriate;

- Attending courses and engaging in other activities associated with professional development as appropriate;
- Complying with all University policies.

The ideal candidate will have:

Essential

- A master's degree in law or a cognate discipline to at least a 2.1 standard (fully completed at the time of application).
- A broad knowledge of law.
- A strong record of experience of and a demonstrated commitment to undergraduate and postgraduate teaching.
- A record of scholarly work and publications of international quality, demonstrating potential to become a significant contributor in their field.
- Good administrative, organisational, teamwork, communication and IT skills.

Desirable

- A PhD in Law or a cognate discipline.
- A capacity to teach in any one or more of the following areas of expertise: Child Law, Contract Law, Company Law, Criminal Law, Equity, Evidence Law, Family Law, Legal Research and Skills, and Property Law.

The University

Maynooth University is a very distinctive university, a collegial institution focused on science and engineering, humanities, and social sciences, and equally committed to research, teaching and community engagement. Located in Ireland's only university town, its distinctive features and character owe much to its unique history and heritage. It provides a high-quality educational experience to over 15,000 students on a campus with 18th century roots and 21st century dynamism.

The strategic trajectory and accomplishments of Maynooth University, in the 25 years since its establishment as an autonomous public university, are exceptional, and a source of great pride to the university community, staff, students and alumni. Maynooth University in 2024 ranked in the top 90 global Times Higher Education (THE) Young University rankings, placing 86th in the world. Maynooth University's growing global reputation is based on the originality, quality, importance and impact of its research and scholarship, commitment to teaching and learning, the quality of academic programmes, and its leadership in widening participation in higher education. The sources of success are the dedication of its staff and the energy and engagement of its students.

Maynooth University is a place of lively contrasts – a modern institution, dynamic, rapidly-growing, research-led and engaged, yet grounded in historic academic strengths and scholarly traditions. With over 15,000 students Maynooth offers a range of programmes at undergraduate, postgraduate and doctoral level in the humanities, science and engineering and social sciences, including business, law and education. The University also offers a range of international programmes and partnerships.

Maynooth's unique collegial culture fosters an interdisciplinary approach to research, which its world-class academics bring to bear in tackling some of the most fundamental challenges facing society today. The University's research institutes and centres consolidate and deliver this impact as vibrant communities of learning, discovery and creation. Research at Maynooth also is very much central to its teaching and the University prides itself on placing equal value on its research and teaching missions.

Maynooth University's Values

Our values define who we are, what we believe in and how we act as a community. They underpin our future success and guide our expectations of ourselves and each other. Our values apply to everyone in the University community:

Faculty and Research Institutes

The Faculty of Social Sciences comprises the Departments of Adult and Community Education, Anthropology (with International Development), Applied Social Studies, Design Innovation, Economics, Geography, the School of Law and Criminology, Sociology, The Froebel Department of Primary and Early Childhood Education and the School of Business. The role of the Faculty is to coordinate the academic activities of individual departments, to oversee the strategic development of departments and to support interdepartmental programmes. The University has also developed several interdisciplinary institutes to support excellent research and to build research capacity across disciplines including Maynooth University Social Sciences Institute and the ALL Institute.

The School

The School of Law and Criminology has 64 full-time permanent staff. It offers undergraduate and postgraduate degrees, based on its research strengths in Law and Criminology, in a vibrant learning environment. The School is one of the newest academic units within the University and is amongst the largest common law academic units in the EU. It offers several popular undergraduate and postgraduate degree programmes, educating over 2,500 students.

The School places a very strong emphasis on research, and is currently home to two European Research Council (ERC) awardees. Four research centres anchor the School's approach to research: the Centre for Criminology, the Centre for European Law, the Centre for International Justice, and the Centre for Technology Law and Policy. Staff members regularly publish in leading international academic journals, and with leading international publishing houses. The School has particular research strengths in the areas of international justice and human rights, law and technology, environmental law, EU Law and policy, intellectual property law, health law, global business perspectives, criminology and criminal justice, and comparative legal theory. In addition, our programmes highlight the practical application of legal and criminological study, and underline the importance of legal skills, such as negotiation and advocacy.

The School is student-focused and outward-facing; it collaborates widely with colleagues within the University and beyond. The School has undergone a period of rapid expansion of its range of programmes at undergraduate and postgraduate levels. It offers, amongst others, the LLB (single major), a suite of BCL (double major) degrees at undergraduate level (including Ireland's first BCL (Law and Criminology) degree and the forthcoming BA Criminology (single major)), and a suite of postgraduate programmes, including the LLM programmes in International Business Law, International Justice, and Global Legal Studies, and the MA in Comparative Criminology and Criminal Justice.

The School was one of the first two Law Schools in Ireland to successfully secure an Athena SWAN Bronze award (recently renewed), which recognises work undertaken to advance gender equality for staff and students in Higher Education.
